Terms

Thanks for your interest in listing your book on the Booktopia website and congratulations on publishing your books.

It is very simple to list your book on Booktopia and these are the steps:

1. You will need to send us copies of the book on consignment. We prefer 10 to 12 copies to start with. Some authors send us as many as 24. Ship to:

Tony Nash
Level 1, 27 Sirius Rd
Lane Cove West, NSW, 2066
Australia

2. We will pay you for those when we order the next batch of books and you will need to include an invoice in the second and following shipments, so we are always paying in arrears. In other words each new batch is on consignment.

3. The price we pay for each title is 50% of the recommended retail price.

4. We do not pay for shipping, you will pay for the shipping to us.

5. Please supply an image of the book cover to load on to the site. If you have internal images of the pages of the book as well then that is great because it can really help increase sales, then we can load them like this one here:

<http://www.booktopia.com.au/prod9780980449501.html>

6. Please supply the correct title, author name and ISBN.

7. Please supply the correct recommended retail price of the book.

8. Please supply a good description of the book to include on the book's web page. If you have any reviews of the book then we will include them as well, or even better any author video interviews or digital content would be much appreciated.

9. Please let us know what categories you might want your book to appear in, including sub-categories as well. Although we do all of the categorisation ourselves, it helps if you have an idea of what you want.

10. We will push your title to the top page of the categories that you requested to ensure it gets maximum exposure and we will see how it sells.

Thank you for your interest in listing on our site.

About Booktopia:

Booktopia only operates online. We have more online visitors to an Australian bookstore than any other bookstore websites. We started in February 2004 and now sell more than any other book website including Dymocks and Angus & Robertson in Australia. We pay GST and currently employ 35 Australians, unlike Amazon.com. Our business background is in building technology for the internet and were one of Australia's leading Internet Marketing companies until Booktopia completely took over the business.

If these conditions do not meet with your requirements then we totally understand and wish you all the best in promoting your book.
